

Wave Petunias

Why are the wave petunias a great plant to grow?

- Their vibrant colors will make your container or flowerbed stand out.
- They are low maintenance and can tolerate the high temperatures of the summer.
- A single plant covers a larger area resulting in savings for you.

How can I keep them looking good all summer?

- The wave petunias like their fertilizer, you can use miracle grow twice a week.
- If you have them in a container don't be afraid to cut them back if they start to look straggly.
- The most important is to keep them watered. Water them twice a day when in containers. On an 80 degree day you might have to water more times.
